As you are all aware, Dr. NTR University of Health Sciences has invited applications for admission to the MBBS and BDS courses for the academic year 2026–27.

This message is being given briefly to ensure that all candidates have a complete understanding of the revised rules and regulations.

First, while selecting web options, candidates can choose all the MBBS and BDS colleges they are interested in. By giving as many options as possible, candidates can increase their chances of securing a seat.

Second, even if a seat is allotted to a candidate in one round of counselling, if the candidate does not join that allotted seat, they will still have the opportunity to participate in the subsequent counselling round. Earlier, candidates who did not join the seat allotted to them were not eligible to participate in the subsequent counselling. This rule has now been changed.

Under the present rules, at every stage of subsequent counselling, candidates will have the opportunity to choose the college they wish to join. However, a candidate will not be permitted to select, in a subsequent counselling round, the college that was previously allotted to them but which they did not report to or join.

This also means that candidates who were unable to submit their web options in the first phase can enter their options in the subsequent phase. Similarly, the Government has provided the facility for candidates to change the order of preference of colleges according to their choice.

Therefore, the University advises candidates to make full use of this opportunity and enter all the colleges they prefer as web options, in their desired order of priority.

Once again, the University advises every student to remember that giving as many options as possible, or options for all available colleges, can increase their chances of securing a seat.

For complete details, candidates are requested to carefully go through the University's web-options notification and regularly check the University website for updates.

Best wishes to all the candidates who have applied for admission to the MBBS and BDS courses.
