Whereas, in the matter of Pradeep S Ahluwalia V. Delhi Tourism and Transport Development Corporation, CIC/AD/A/2013/001046SA, dt. 20-06-2014, the Hon'ble Central Information Commission (CIC) observed that although the Right to Information Act, 2005 does not contain any specific provision that bars the re-asking of information from the concerned Public Authority, but, Public Policy demands that principle akin to Section 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 be read in to the Right to Information Act, 2005, to make the overall scheme of the 2005 Act more effective. The relevant extracts from the Judgement cited is reproduced below for ready reference:-

The CIC vide para 14 of the Judgement observed

14 .....Though Right to Information Act, 2005 did not have any specific provision to bar the repetition for information like Section 11 of Code of Civil Procedure, the universal principle of civil justice 'res judicata' will certainly apply and the repeated request has to be rejected with an emphasis. Two Latin maxims form the basis of this rule, they are: 'interest republicae ut sit finis litlum it is in the interest of the State that there should be an end to litigation) and 'nemo devet vis vexari pro una et eadem cause" fono man should be taxed twice over for the same cause). If the PIOs, First Appellate Authorities and the Commissions allow repeated RTI applications, there will be no end to the information litigation and the public authorities would be continuously taxed for no fault of them. Appeal as provided by law is allowed, though it appears like relitigating, because it is review and an opportunity to challenge the order on reasonable and legal grounds. Filing same or slightly modified application for information which was decided, is against the principles of natural justice pertaining to procedure.

Contd., 3

The CIC also emphasized on the provisions of constructive res judicata vide para 15

15. The Civil Justice principles also recognized 'constructive res judicata which means when an applicant availed opportunity of obtaining information on a particular subject, he is expected to seek all the related information in that opportunity itself. He cannot file another application for a bit or piece which he forgot to ask, or not advised by his lawyer to ask, or thought he should postpone it for other purposes. He should ask all possible aspects of information about that subject matter, once and for all. If he does not, it is assumed that he asked for that and was refused properly. This is incorporated in principles of civil procedural justice and practiced universally. It is in the public interest and also to further objectives of Right to Information Act, that such repeated or unending stream of questions being sought from same or different public authorities to be stopped.

The CIC categorically vide para 28 sub para (i) and (ii) stated that

(i) Even a single repetition of RTI application would demand the valuable time of the public authority, first appellate authority and if it also reaches second appeal, that of the Commission, which time

(ii) ii) "Every repetition of RTI application is an obstruction of flow of information and defeats the purpose of the RTI Act

The CIC categorically vide para 29 sub para (a) stated that

a) "The citizen do not have a right to repeat the same or similar or slightly altered information which he already got, (the combined reading of various provisions of RTI Act, along with the statement of objectives of the Act"

Purther under a separate heading under Para 29 vide sub-para C Hon'ble CIC stated

Repetition shall be ground of refusal

Contd., 4

c) Such repetition shall be considered as ground of refusal under the RTI Act.

Finally vide sub-para (d) of Para 29 of the Judgment-Hon'ble CIC stated to explain the reason of refusal to applicant

d) An applicant or appellant repeating the RTI application or appeal either once or files multiple applications, in certain cases hundreds of queries, suppressing the fact of earlier application and receipt of the answer, the CPIO of public authority shall explain such facts and intimate the applicant, and reject it forthwith, giving such reason.

Whereas, vide RTI application dt. 20-07-2026 applied by Sri Gadam Satya Prabhakara Rao, Advocate on behalf of his client Sri. Merla Bhavani Sankara Prasad seeking information under RTI Act, wherein Para 1 of said application clearly exhibits that Sri. Merla Bhavani Sankara Prasad has personal battle against the faculty and Management of GSL Medical College, Rajamahendravaram since 2014 and thus, Sri. Merla Bhavani Sankara Prasad is repeatedly applying to this Office seeking information under RTI Act 2005 related to GSL Medical College, Rajamahendravaram which are same or similar or slightly altered information pertaining to MD – Radio Diagnosis in vexatious nature which is not permissible keeping in view of above said judgement of the Hon'ble CIC dt. 20-06-2014.

In view of the facts and reasons explained above, in accordance with the Judgement dt. 20-06-2014 of the Hon'ble Chief Information Commissioner, New Delhi, since the information sought is similar/ repeated to earlier RTI applications of Sri. Merla Bhavani Sankara Prasad, the information cannot be furnished and RTI application dt. 23-09-2026 is therefore rejected and also hereafterwards, the University will not entertaine any RTI application from Sri. Merla Bhavani Sankara Prasad.
